The recent Prestel Family conference held in Fullerton Singapore surpassed my expectations in every way. I have had the opportunity to attend a wide variety of conferences and other events globally and I must say Singapore Family Office Forum was one of the few that really stood out. The Singapore Family Office Forum stands out as a premier venue that brings together an exclusive collective of innovative thinkers. The itinerary for the conference was carefully crafted, which included keynote addresses, lively panel discussions, and plenty of networking opportunities. Investment strategies, asset preservation, succession planning, and new developments in the family office sector were just some of the many timely and relevant themes discussed.
